DISCOVER WHAT'S AT THE CENTRE

ALCHEMY PRESENTS NAKED PORTFOLIO

You are invited to an evening of poetry and song celebrating our connection to the earth and to each other.

Listen to and experience a tapestry of songs, words and sounds connecting you back to your inner world – the collective consciousness of what it means to be human - and always in the awareness of what is greater than us, what lies beyond us, a world that can only be told through the magic of poetry and song.

Enter a world of sound of that is at times contemplative and floating and at other times charged and exhilarating, blending natural sounds (wind and water) with subtly modulated clouds of sound and the voices of bells and gongs.

This concert will, if you let it, challenge your perception and conception of poetry and music and reconnect you with yourself.

Claudia is a professional Jazz vocalist, who has worked with celebrated, international artists for many years and has a lot of experience using the voice as a solo instrument, as well as a tool to empower and encourage others to use their vocal potential. She is passionate about people and sound. Personal experience has proven to her that sound vibrations can be used in a therapeutic capacity to rebalance disharmonious energies within the body. Her voice produces unique, powerful tones and vibrations, that uplift, energise and rejuvenate your mind, body, and spirit. Years of singing jazz and blues have mellowed her voice to an instrument that touches with simplicity and a wealth of tone, and something that evokes memories of other times and distant worlds.; a voice that is at home singing the Kyrie or a Yoruba Lullaby...

Brian Lee is a poet and composer. He is the author of two books of poetry "Songs for Gaia" and "Village of Stones" both with accompanying CDs. His poetry has been described as celebrating our connection to the earth, the moon, to rivers and stars. His music is an exploration of sound with roots in astrology and numerology and is used by healers and creative artists around the world.
